

MAY LET DELMAS GO

Thaw's Defense Endangered by Friction of Counsel.

DECISION TO BE MADE TO-DAY

Lawyers Hold Conferences and Four Are Said to Favor Dropping Calli-formian-Prisoner's Mother Issues Statement Concerning Alleged Mc-Pike Interview Criticizing Jerome.

New York, Feb. 16.—There is more friction among the counsel for Harry K. Thaw.

It has yet to be decided by the Thaw family whether Delmas, of California, is to remain in the case. It is known that at least four of the other Thaw lawyers favor Delmas being dropped.
The final decision will be made by the Thaw family to-morrow.

The exact details as to just what is the dissatisfaction over Delmas could not be learned. Early to-day Delmas issued a statement, or wanted to issue a statement, having some connection with the case. This came to the attention of Clifford W. Hartridge, who has been appearing for Thaw for some time.
Mr. Hartridge was much disturbed. The statement of Henry C. McPike, Delmas' partner, on Friday, in which he criticized the attitude of District Attorney Jerome and made some reference to the introduction of testimony, was not particularly pleasing to some, especially Mrs. William Thaw, the prisoner's mother.

McPike Denies Interview.

After Hartridge had obtained an idea of the statement, he gathered lawyers Dan O'Reilly, A. Russell Peabody, and John B. Gleason around him. At that time Lawyer McPike had been asked about Friday's interview, but he denied having made it. The other lawyers, from the inquiries they had made, were satisfied that the interview was genuine. After the lawyers had talked it over they marched in a body to Mr. Delmas' office.
The report then was that the four lawyers were going to demand of Mr. Delmas that McPike be squelched. The interview started before 4 o'clock, and it was after 7 o'clock before it was over.

Hartridge, Peabody, O'Reilly, and Gleason went over to Mr. Hartridge's office, where there was another brief conference. When it was over Gleason went to the Loraine to see Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw. Hartridge went to call on Mrs. William Thaw. Both lawyers presented to the two women their views of what they thought about Delmas. It was decided to hold a conference of the members of the family to-day.

Delmas' Statement.

It is said that in Delmas' statement, as prepared, there was criticism of some of Delmas' colleagues. Delmas said to the reporters: "The only statement I have made to-day concerns the question of the appointment of a lunacy commission in this case. I say that if such an application is made it will be fought to the finish. From Mr. Jerome's attitude I do not believe that he has any intention of asking for the appointment of a commission."

The fact that Mr. Delmas was anxious to say something about the case which the other lawyers did not approve of is not the only thing which has caused friction. There was an arrangement for the Thaw lawyers to meet in the Tombs at 11 o'clock this morning and talk over the case with their client. Shortly before 11 o'clock the other lawyers got word from Delmas that he had been delayed and would not attend the meeting for about an hour.

Delmas Summons Evelyn Thaw.

Shortly before 11 o'clock Mrs. Evelyn Thaw appeared at the Tombs. A messenger from Delmas' office was waiting there. He spoke to her, but she paid little attention. He spoke to her again, but she started for the gate to go up to her husband's cell, saying that it was Saturday, and that she would not have much time to talk to her husband. But the messenger whispered something in her ear that made her change her mind, and she turned around and went out with him. They went to Delmas' office, where she had a talk with Delmas, and he went back to the Tombs with her.

Soon after that Lawyers Gleason, Peabody, and O'Reilly arrived. There was a general talk, and the lawyers went away.
Mrs. William Thaw called on her son after that.

The other lawyers were not particularly pleased when they learned that young Mrs. Thaw had been to Delmas' office.
They heard of this as soon as they got to the Tombs. Then along came Mrs. William Thaw, who was not in a pleasant frame of mind. She was much concerned over the McPike interview, and wanted to know all about it. As a result, she wrote out this statement, which she authorized Hartridge to make public:

Mrs. William Thaw's Statement.

"Mrs. William Thaw wishes it understood that the lawyers retained as counsel by her son are Messrs. Hartridge, Peabody, Gleason, Delmas, and O'Reilly.
Any one else sitting by courtesy at the counsel's table and making statements in advance of evidence, does so without warrant, and it must be regarded as a breach of confidence if such statements are founded on fact. Mrs. Thaw is moved to say this because of the publication of methods of the defense, whether assumed or real."

It came out to-day that the Thaws wanted Charles E. Hughes as chief counsel. This was about the time that Mr.
Hughes was talked of as a candidate for governor. Hughes had been decided upon as the principal lawyer for Thaw to take charge of the case when he was nominated for governor. Of course that knocked him out. It is said that Mrs.
William Thaw was ready to pay as much as $250,000 to Mr. Hughes to take charge of the case.

Since Delmas has taken charge of the defense there has been some criticism of how Thaw's case has been prepared. It is now said that all the evidence was turned over to John E. Parsons some time ago and he said, after examining it, that there was a good defense.

Delmas said to-day that Dr. Evans would be the first witness called Monday morning. Then Dr. Wagner will be called. After that an effort will be made to get Thaw's will in evidence. This will be opposed by Jerome.

Jerome spent to-day in preparing for the cross-examination of the defense's witnesses.

Ex-Sheriff Commits Suicide.

Special to The Washington Herald.

Salisbury N. C. Feb. 16.—After a long illness, causing despondency, ex-Sheriff A. H. Boyd, of Lenoir County, this afternoon shot and instantly killed himself. He was one of the most popular of the county's officers.

THAW JUROR'S WIFE BURIED.

Mrs. Bolton's Funeral Attended by Husband's Fellow-venturers.

New York, Feb. 16.—The funeral services of Mrs. Catherine H. Bolton, wife of Joseph B. Bolton, Thaw juror No. 11, were held this afternoon at the residence of her brother, Thomas Bolton, 200th street and Marion avenue.

The jurors attended in a body, but did not follow the hearse to Woodlawn Cemetery, where the interment took place. All of the tags were removed from the thirty floral pieces, and it was rumored that preceding the services at the house, the Rev. Mr. A. G. Derbyshire, pastor of the West Farms Episcopal Church, received a communication warning him to make no mention of the circumstances in connection with the trial that led to Mrs. Bolton's death.

Capt. Ricketts, who has had charge of the court police arrangements, was also present.

MEDIUM SEES THAW'S FUTURE.

Spiritualist Declares White's Slayer Will Be Acquitted.

Milwaukee, Wis., Feb. 16.—Prof.
Arthur Roberts, head of the Spiritualists of Wisconsin, said after a trance Friday night:

"Harry Thaw will never be found guilty of the murder of Stanford White, although there will be two or more mistrials. One of the woman principals in the case will be murdered within a year by shooting, and the murderer will be a man who also is involved in the case."

GETS STANFORD WHITE HOME.

Princeton Club Leases House Occupied by Late Architect.

New York, Feb. 16.—The house of the late Stanford White, at Lexington avenue and Twenty-first street, will soon become the home of the Princeton Club.
This was decided upon at a special meeting of the club held last night.

For several years the club has occupied the house owned by Alfred G. Vanderbilt, on the southwest corner of Park avenue and Thirty-fourth street.
The lease to that property expires in November, and it is said that Mr. Vanderbilt is averse to a renewal.

BLACKMAIL SCHEME FAILS

Strikebreaker Farley Lays Complaint Against Former Companion.

Charges Thomas J. Hardy with Attempting to Obtain $5,000 from Him by Threats.

New York, Feb. 16.—On the complaint of John P. Farley, a notorious strike-breaker, Thomas J. Hardy, one of Farley's old companions, was arrested today, charged with having tried to blackmail Farley for $5,000. The police say Hardy is the same man who tried to blackmail J. Ogden Armour during the Chicago beef-trust investigation in 1905.

According to Farley, Hardy threatened to sell an "expose story" to the newspapers unless Farley paid the $5,000.
After putting off the man, Farley turned the case over to his attorney, Robert Moore. Moore detailed a clerk, John M.
Tierny, to open negotiations. Tierny went to Hardy and represented himself to be a reporter named Thomas, of the Boston Globe, and offered to take over the story, put it in usable shape, and join Hardy in an attempt to "shake down" Farley.

Tierny met Hardy at the New Knickerbocker Club, and there, he says, the alleged blackmailer dictated a part of his expose. In the adjoining room were concealed two detectives. The supposed reporter said he told Hardy that he had seen Farley, who would only give $3,500.
Tierny says Hardy agreed to take this reduced price and "split" it with the supposed accomplice.

The money was to be passed over today, according to the police, and Hardy met Tierny in a saloon. The two detectives followed. Tierny had been provided with $2,000 in bills, all marked for identification. These Tierny passed over to Hardy, representing it to be an installment. The detectives followed Hardy and then arrested him. When he was searched at headquarters $1,900 of the marked money was found. One $100 bill had disappeared en route.

Hardy denied that he had attempted to blackmail anybody.

CHICAGO PURE-FOOD CENTER.

Laboratories Will Be Second Only to Those in Washington.

Chicago, Feb. 16.—Chicago is to become the center of Federal activity for the enforcement of the Federal pure-food law. Offices and laboratories are to be opened, and Dr. Bigelow, who is now directly under Dr. H. W. Wiley, in Washington, is to have charge, with instructions to co-operate to the fullest extent with the State authorities.

This information was given out to-night by A. H. Jones, State food commissioner, who returned from Washington, where he was in conference with Dr. Wiley.

A force of five or six men will be transferred from Washington at first, but this will be largely augmented in a few months with the intention to have the laboratory facilities second only to those in Washington.

SEVEN KILLED AT SEA

Members of Valdivia's Crew Meet Instant Death.

BOILER OF ENGINE EXPLODES

Chief Officer and Two Others on the Hamburg-American Liner Seriously Injured—Vessel, Badly Damaged, Makes Port Under Its Own Steam.

New York, Feb. 16.—Seven men were killed and three other persons were injured by an explosion which occurred on the German steamship Valdivia, from West Indian ports, at sea last Wednesday.

The donkey engine boiler exploded, throwing the steamship's funnel over and ripping open the upper deck. Seven were killed instantly. The dead are:
J. STEINHAGEN, fourth engineer, Hoboken, N. J.
A. SELMON, colored, fireman.
W. HANNA, coal passer.
J. SALESKI, coal passer.
P. DETHO, seaman.
W. DETRICH, seaman.
WILLIAM SIMONS, colored, steward.

Of the persons injured by the explosion one, Karl Gruener, fireman, is in a critical condition. He was removed to a hospital as soon as the steamship reached her dock. The other injured were given medical attention, and were permitted to remain on board.

Chief Officer Hurt.

The chief officer, who was on duty on the bridge, was buried in the debris which fell about him. He said that when the explosion occurred everything appeared to fall over the bridge on the fore deck, and the upper structure about the smokestack and the decks was torn open. All of the lifeboats were damaged, one so smashed that it was thrown overboard.

The smokestack fell down to the deck, but was secured. All of the inner structures abaft of the bridge were completely torn out. When the explosion occurred the steaming stopped and everybody rushed to the rescue of the injured. The dead were so mangled that it was with difficulty that the bodies were found.
After some delay in clearing the wreckage the Valdivia was fastened to derricks attached to the mainmast and the life-boats were placed in the chocks for repairs. The dead were buried at sea.

Comes In Under Own Steam.

The vessel came in under her own steam, as the general machinery was not affected, except that the loss of the smokestack interfered with the draught.
The escaping steam from the burst boiler enveloped the steamer, creating a scene of great confusion. Among the injured is the first officer.

The Valdivia is a passenger and freight steamship belonging to the Hamburg-American Line, and plying in the Atlas Line service to Haiti and other ports in the West Indies.

Her schedule on this voyage included ports in Santo Domingo and Haiti, her calls being at Jérémie, which she left on February 12, and Inagua, in the Bahamas. The vessel was in command of Capt. Kruger.

FEIST GUILTY OF MURDER.

Memphis Jury Finds Physician Killed Rich Widow.

Memphis, Feb. 16.—Following one of the most stubbornly contested legal battles ever fought in this section, the jury trying Dr. J. Herman Feist, of Nashville, for the murder of Mrs. Rose Mangrum, has brought in a verdict of murder in the first degree.

Mrs. Mangrum was a widow in good circumstances, and Dr. Feist, as her attending physician, came to know many of the details of her private affairs.

Although having a high practice, the doctor, who was a "high roller," was continually in need of funds. On December 29, 1905, Mrs. Mangrum disappeared. A few days prior she had drawn $10,000 from a Nashville bank and had announced her intention of going to Chicago for a visit.

On the evening of December 19 she left her boarding place to take a trolley car to the railway station, and was never afterward seen alive.

Her body subsequently was found in the river 200 miles below this city.

SULLIVAN MAY CHANCE IT.

Likely to Upset Programme and Run for Office of Mayor.

Chicago, Feb. 16.—Roger Sullivan, Democratic nominee for committee man from Illinois, whom Bryan nominated of the party, came out of the East today and upset the calculations of aspirants for the Democratic nomination for mayor of Chicago. He may be a candidate himself. He wants neither Dunne nor Harrison to fill the chair.

The delegates from Sullivan's wards hold the balance of power in the city convention, so the national committeeman commands attention when he talks.

There is practically no doubt that the Republican nominee, Postmaster Fred Busse, if Sullivan enters as a candidate the practical heads of the two great party organizations in Cook County will be pitted against each other in the open arena.

ATTEMPTS TO BREAK WILL.

Granddaughter Charges Mrs. Hooker Was of Unsound Mind.

Hartford, Conn., Feb. 16.—Alleging that Isabella Beecher Hooker, the noted woman suffrage champion and sister of Harriet Beecher Stowe, was influenced by messages from the spirit world and was of unsound mind, Mrs. Catherine Burton Powers, of Whitman, Mass., attempted to break the will of Mrs. Hooker at a hearing before Judge Marvin in the Probate Court this afternoon.

The estate is valued at $70,000, and Mrs.
Powers, who is a granddaughter of the testatrix, was bequeathed $10,000, the bulk of the property going to the Hooker family.

SUES FOR FALSE ARREST.

William A. Bolden Begins Action for $10,000 Damages.

William A. Bolden, through his attorney, James A. Toomey, yesterday began suit in the District Supreme Court against James Kramer, Thomas Judd, and Robert E. Doyle for the recovery of $10,000 damages.

Bolden alleges that January 18 last he was arrested by the defendants without cause or reason, was taken to police station No. 8, where he was locked up, searched, and put through the sweating process, all of which, Bolden asserts, greatly injured his peace of mind and humiliated him beyond words.

Clyde E. Bower yesterday began suit against Mary E. Reardon for $5,000 damages, alleging libel on the part of the defendant, and claiming that she sent to him through the mails a number of postal cards containing derogatory and libelous matter. Attorneys Albert Sillers and Robert L. Miller appear for Bower.

BIRTH AND TWO DEATHS AT SEA

Graf Waldersee Has Eventful and Stormy Voyage Across Ocean.

New York, Feb. 16.—The Graf Waldersee, of the Hamburg-American Line, reached port to-day, after a voyage full of trouble. She encountered gales which repeatedly sent tons of sea water aboard, making it necessary to keep the steering passengers locked below for more than forty-eight hours. There were also a birth and two deaths on the trip across.

The liner ran into a southwest gale on February 12, and at 10 a. m. a tremendous wave broke over the decks and the mizzen topmast was carried away. The next day the weather improved, but the seas ran high.

In the steerage on the 10th a little son was born to Martha Meirs and was christened Rheinhold. The Meirs family comes from Russia.

On February 5 William Beirens, a cabin boy, was stricken by a mysterious malady that rendered him blind. He died February 8. An autopsy showed death was due to tuberculosis of the brain.

Joseph Bela, a Hungarian, twenty-nine years old, died of consumption on the 25th.
Both Bela and the boy were buried at sea.

MAYFLOWER AT HAVANA.

Assistant Secretary of Navy and Party Arrive in Cuba.

Havana, Feb. 16.—The Mayflower, with Assistant Secretary of the Navy Newberry and party aboard, arrived here today. The Assistant Secretary, who is making an inspection of navy yards and stations on the Southern and Gulf coasts and in Cuba, is accompanied by Mrs.
Newberry, Mrs. Victor Metcalf, wife of the Secretary of the Navy; Chief Naval Constructor Washington Lee Capps, and Capt. C. E. Wood, U. S. N. The Mayflower left Pensacola for Havana via Key West on Thursday.

Frank Steinhart, the United States consul general here, sailed for New York to-day on the Morro Castle.

TILLEY TO SUCCEED CRAIG.

Former Captain of Iowa to Be Commandant at League Island.

Philadelphia, Feb. 16.—Rear Admiral J. E. Craig, commandant of the League Island Navy Yard, who will retire forever on February 24, will be detached from duty the preceding day, next Saturday. He has since March, 1905, been in command of the navy yard since March, 1905. He is a native of New York, and entered the navy in November, 1861.

He will be succeeded by Capt. Benjamin F. Tilley, recently in command of the battle ship Iowa, who will be advanced to the rank of rear admiral.

EXAMINE OIL COMPANY BOOKS

Bailey Investigators Inspect Waters-Pierce Concern's Transactions.

Austin, Tex., Feb. 16.—The Waters-Pierce Oil Company's books were before the Bailey investigation committee at all of to-day's session. A. J. Hutchinson, auditor of the oil company, explained about the auditing and vouchers and other papers that have figured in the Bailey controversy, and swore that there was none of them that showed any connection between Mr. Bailey and the company; that they all showed personal transactions between Mr. Bailey and H. Clay Pierces.

Mr. Hutchinson showed where numerous changes had been made in the vouchers and papers from their original form, and some of these he could not explain.
He could not understand why "Bills receivable," as some of the Bailey papers were shown to be, should have been charged to profit and loss, and could not understand how they were left in this status after they had been paid for by Mr.
Bailey.

Bailey by David R. Francis.

Mr. Hutchinson swore that Mr. Gruet had personal possession of these papers for a long time in his private office, which was not connected with the Waters-Pierce business affairs.

DOUMA OPPOSES THE CZAR.

Liberals Get Two-thirds of Seats in New Election.

London, Feb. 16.—The results of the Russian election to hand show that the opposition is assured of about two-thirds of the seats in the new Duma. The Constitutional Democrats, a party which advocates to the full the principle of responsible government, will thus control the new assembly. Prof. Kovalevsky will probably be chosen president of the Duma, and Prince Paul Dolgoukoff vice-president. The Socialists have met with scant success, and have lost seats to the opposition by running their own candidates in various constituencies such as Kazan, Kieff, Kishineff, and Vilna.

The strength of the hold upon the nation enjoyed by the Constitutional Democrats, the St. Petersburg correspondent of the Times points out, is now beyond dispute, but the question remains, Will they justify the confidence reposed in them? Their organs to-day unanimously proclaim the impossibility that the next Duma will work with the present ministry. The correspondent evidently fears that they will repeat the "mistake of yielding to the passion of resentment, as they did in issuing the Viborg manifesto."

On the other hand, it must be hoped that the Russian executive will show more of its part in not expecting the representatives when they meet merely to indorse and register the military policy.
It cannot in truth be said that the outlook for a successful outcome of the new Duma is very cheerful.

There is a sinister significance in the opening sentences of a St. Petersburg letter in to-day's Globe. It says:

"Every preparation is being made for the meeting of the second Duma in a fortnight. Last Tuesday Podgurski, the newly appointed executioner, arrived here from Moscow. This morning he himself was sentenced to death for several murders, but was pardoned on condition that he accept the office of public executioner.
He has already executed several persons at Moscow."
